

Satellite radio is the BEST thing that has happened to radio since FM. Traditional broadcasters do NOT have an entitlement to the airways - they must learn to adapt, not try to silence a quality competitor through the back door, politically.

Let them improve their product and they won't have to worry.

If XM can provide accurate traffic and weather when the local stations cannot, more power to them.